Topic

Financial decisions accompany us throughout our lives: From education to small purchases and real estate purchases to retirement planning.

Financial competence is therefore indispensable for personal well-being.

One important topic is old-age provision. Risk-free investments have become unprofitable. A positive return on savings can only be achieved by selectively accepting risks. Demographic ageing has increased the risk of redistribution of pension fund money from younger to older employees and pensioners. This has consequences for all of us.

Content

We therefore deal with questions such as:

- What influence do interest rates have on our assets?
- How can I save and invest?
- What investment options are there and which ones make sense for me? Shares, bonds, investment funds, ETFs or savings accounts?
- How can I take ESG criteria into account when investing?

- How does retirement planning work in Switzerland?
- What can I do to plan for my retirement?
- How does inflation affect my assets and debts?

- What types of mortgages are there?
- Can I afford them at all?

- What influence does risk have on an investment?
- How can I diversify my risk?

- How does the tax system work in Switzerland?
- What are marginal tax rates and effective tax rates?
- What role do taxes play in debt interest, investing money or withdrawing Pillar 3a funds?

- What psychological effects influence our behaviour when investing money?
