

Late withdrawal from examinations

Within two weeks beyond the end of the registration period, the Faculty of Business and Economics offers the possibility to withdraw from individual examinations without giving reasons.

This applies to all courses for which you enroll in MOnA and which have no special registration requirements. A late withdrawal is not possible for bachelor and master seminars, courses with limited participation and/or block courses that end before the end of the registration period.

The withdrawal form must be submitted to the Dean of Studies' Office (belegungstorno-wwz@unibas.ch) no later than Friday of the sixth week of lectures. After this date, a withdrawal is no longer possible.
